

EVIG NATT

(Eternal Night)

Text : Stein

Feel the breeze of the nights call

A search, an eternal strive

When the day fades and darkness captures my mind

An image of you, etched in the veil of night

In dreams, where life dies

A freedom, of what ones was

An eternal sleep where all pain turns pale

My longing, my soul

Deep within me, a naked mind

Trapped in my souls raw embrace

Deep within me a faded dream

An eternal rest, longing for death

In dreams of stillness two shadows melts into one

Wandering along empty paths

Without hope, without peace

Death, a companion, takes my hand

Leads the way into his harbor

Deep within me, a naked mind

Fragile as the nights' eternal shadow

Deep within me a faded dream

An eternal rest, longing for death

Deep within me, a naked mind

Trapped in my souls raw embrace

Deep within me a faded dream
